The accused was brought into court yesterday, and the case was investigation ted. A letter from the President of the Insurance Company to its agent in this city was introduced as evidence. In this letter it was stated that the accused, by filing an affidavit in the city of Buffalo that he was the agent of said company, caused it to pay $4,100. The gentlemen appointed at a previous meeting to open a correspondence with the directors of the U. S. Agricultural Society, relative to holding the next Annual Fair of the Society at this city, met, in pursuance to adjournment, at the Louisville Hotel Saturday afternoon. from $25,000 to $30,000. When it is recollected that at the last United States Agricultural Fair held here the sum of $14,000 was expended in permanent improvements on the Fair grounds for which the State Society paid barely $2,000, we think they could now afford to give the use of the grounds on more liberal terms. As it is, however, the Committee have little fear but that they can raise the necessary amount, as there is very little probability that the subscribers will be ever called upon for even a third part of the amount guaranteed. The large sum expended in fitting up the grounds for the previous Fair that was held here, will be this time saved. At the last Fair, which we believe was very badly managed, only about $14,000 was paid out for

THE PLANET-DANIEL BOONE MATCH.—We learn

from a gentleman direct from Memphis that the match between Planet, and Daniel Boone, and Laura Farris, and Fanny Washington, involving some $50,000, will not come off. The parties who made the banter do not own Boone, and it is likely that he cannot be obtained for the match. His owner thinks him a very fine horse, and as he is young would hardly be willing to trust him in a bruising race against a matured racer like Planet. $10,000 MATCH.—The match race for $10,000, between Langford, by Belmont, out of Lizzie Givens, and Ashland, by Glencoe, took place at Sacramento, Cal., April 26th. Langford won the

The horses were in fine plight. Exchequer was grand. I liked him better than Planet; and Fanny Washington is one of the noblest of her race. The fact is, the stable of the Major is worth going a long way to see. Though admirably governed, it got into a row a few days since. Exchequer, who is rather mettlesome, "got on his high horse," and sounded his wartrumpet on the very highest key. The whole stable were out taking a walk. The signal of hostilities caused very great excitement among these nobility of horse kind. Fanny Washington, not at all liking the thrilling note of the cavalier, (horse-soldier, says Wercester.) broke from the control of her rider, landed him over in a clover field and put all the distance she could between herself and the uncivil disturber of the promenade. Planet, taken by surprise, likewise took to his heels and disburthened himself of his rider. Exchequer directed all his ire upon him, took to his heels and disburthened himself of his rider. Exchequer directed all his ire upon him, though his elder brother, as he is. The flying knight getting hemmed in by a concatenation of wagons, carts and other obstacles, was caught by his enraged pursuer, and pretty sharply bitten in several places, but not severely hurt. There was a world of excitement for a time. Steeds in the field and in the stable neighed wildly, and Bullfield seemed the battle-ground of a charge of cavalry. Summoned to the field, the Major, who is as active as a boy, led on his grooms well armed with sticks, rescued Planet from his furious antagonist, and quelled the fearful outbreak. The report of the war, summed up, none killed; slightly wounded, two boys and one horse! But the gallant charger had the consolation of knowing that he had occasioned "great excitement."

THEATRE.-The Theatre reopens this evening for a short summer season, introducing, for the first time to a Louisville audience, Mr. Sothern, an actor reputed to possess great ability in his calling, and who makes his first appearan Manuel, in the romance of a Poor Young Man. Never having seen this gentleman, we cannot speak from personal knowledge of his histrionic powers. The press in other cities speak in high praise of his merit. We copy a notice from the Pittsburg Gazette, published in a city where Mr. Sothern has just concluded a successful engagement, merely adding that if the criticism is ju dicious, and the praise deservedly bestowed, his success here may be counted on as certain:

success here may be counted on as certain:

Pittsburg Theatre.—The "Poor Young Man" was produced last night with unequivocal success, and may be termed the hit of the season. Mr. Sothern's brief stay cut short the "American Cousin" in the full tide of success, for undoubtedly it would have run a full week to crowded houses. Honestly speaking we could not have credited to "great Dondreany's" power of so utterly divesting himself of "my lord's" peculiarities. His rendition of "Manuel" is one of the most elegant, refined and finished pieces of acting we ever witnessed. There are no rough points, no under or over acting. All is beautifully smooth and chastened. With the story of the play, (taken as it is from the celebrated French novel that lately made such a sensation in Paris), we presume our readers are acquainted. "Its simple, natural, true, and goes direct to the heart of every auditor. The piece is lengthy—some 3½ hours—but never for one instant does the interest flag. Mr. Sothern's leap from the ruined tower is literally fearful to behold, and he dashes at it with a reckless intrepidity that takes the house by storm. He hurt himself rather severely in Cincinnati, striking his head as he passed through the stage. Our only wonder is, he does not break his neck every night.—[Fitts-burg Gazette, May 31.

The Championship Fight. The "Benecia Boy" has addressed the follow ing letter to the Times:

Ever since the appearance in your paper of May 7th of the letter of Tom Sayers, I have endeavored by every means in my power to ascertain from him in an official way, guarantied by the presence of the editor of Bell's Life, whether he intends to abide by the date recently fixed for us by that gentleman for the championship's belt and stakes. The editor of Bell's Life, in view of the sentiments of that letter, acknowledged the propriety of such inquiries on my part, and also of such proposed official response on the part of Sayers, and did what he could by letters and telegraph dispatches to get Sayers here to answer. Until Saturday, however, it was impossible for him to ascertain with certainty even in what part of England Sayers then was, and finally, through the failure of such efforts, I received information on Saturday from the editor and referce that he could not interfere further in the matter.

If that be not agreed to, I will accept the proposition put forth in Punch, viz: to divide the belt—I to take one-half and Sayers to keep the other half. I will then head a subscription to provide a new half to his, and in 14 years of age, and young Giltner, 21 years old.

The bodies have not yet been recovered. Any information relative to them will be thankfully received by Jacob Crim, at Westport. The girl had on a striped calico dress, car-drops, and a fingerring. The young man was dark-haired, and had on cottonade pants. He had a watch, with a guard chain attached, in his pocket.

Capt. Ditman, and the pilot, and engineer on watch have been served with warrants to answer the charge in Court at La Grange, Tuesday, to which they will of course promptly respond. We have known Captain Ditman for many years as a very prudent, careful boatman, and extremely cautious. The mail company employ none but careful officers, and the accident must have been unavoidable on their part. It is a very common thing for parties in skiffs to pull out into the river to ride the waves of a passing steamer, and in this instance the pilot and the mate on watch, the captain's watch being off, thought the young man was pulling closely to the boat for that purpose. Just as the skiff was run over and the parties drowned.

Sayers addresses a letter to the Times in reply to the above, in which he says:

The ridiculous suggestion put forward by Mr. Heenan, of mutilating the belt, I laugh to scorn, and could afford to treat it with the contempt it merits, but that some good friends of mine—of the Peace Society—have, innocently enough, patronized the notion.

The belt, sir, I fought hard to obtain—striving for that prize I have within the last three years defeated some of the best men of my country; and, without intending to cast the slightest slur on my gallant opponent, I say that no American citizen, nor foreigner from any other land, however flowery and sunny, shall wear it, or the buckle of it, from Old England, while my arm and heart are capable of defending it. I am as ready as Mr. Heenan to fight again, and repudiate with indignation the insinuation that I am not. In a very short time the Champion's Belt will be mine by indefeasible right; and even if Mr. Heenan had defeated me it would not be his. He would have to do as I have done—meet every aspirant for the honor of wearing it for three years before he would become the lawful possessor of the trophy.

ATTEMPT TO BURN THE TOWN OF KENOSHA WISCONSIN — THE INCENDIARY ARRESTED. — From the Milwankee News of Friday, we learn that on the previous day, a man named Shepard was arrested in Kenosha for incendiarism, he having been caught in the act. It seems the scoundrel had made two or three previous attempts to burn the city, in which he was unfortunately too successful, a great portion of the business portion of the city being distroyed, involving a loss to several business men of thousands of dollars, and seriously endangering the lives of the occupants of the buildings.

For a long time past, suspicion has rested upon Shepard, and he has been closely watched. During the past six weeks a detective of the Chicago police has been in the city of Kenosha under the disguise of an Irish laborer, and after much skillful maneuvering, succeeded in gaining the confidence of Shepard, with whom, after a short lapse of time, a proposition to again fire the city for the purpose of plunder, met with favor. It was agreed that the attempts should be made on Sunday night, and accordingly Shepard, in company with the detective, proceeded to an old, delapidated, and unoccupied building in the rear of the American House, and made preparations for firing it by saturating the wall with turpentine, and heaping straw upon the floor. All this time the Mayor of the city, in company with officers, were in the adjoining room watching their proceedings. AGRICULTURAL GIFT TO THE JAPANESE.—The United States Agricultural Society has had prepared, for presentation to the Japanese Embassy, a collection of field and garden seeds, embracing nearly one hundred varieties. The cereals are of a superior quality, having been taken from the parcels to which the premiums were awarded at the National Exhibition of 1859. Each variety of seed has been carefully put up in a double wrapper, and the whole are packed in a metalic case, bearing the initials of the society. One of the most intelligent gentlemen in the First Congressional District of Kentucky, writes us under date of May 30th, that the people of Mayfield, Graves county, were addressed by their delegates to Charleston, Messrs. Williams and Morrow, on the 24th of that month, in reby acclamation; and one of the delegates having | the yeas and nays on each, on Monday. intimated that it would not be convenient for him to go to Baltimore, a resolution requesting him to return to the Convention was unani-mously adopted. We are glad to learn from our informant, that Judge Williams, the gentleman referred to, will obey the wishes of his immedi. ate constituency, and participate in the proceedings of the Convention. He is one of the ablest, as he is among the most popular and influential, of the delegates from the State; and his services could not now be dispensed with. Our corres pondent, whose means of obtaining correct inforion, as well as his good judgment unwarped by prejudice or preference, may be relied upon,

Douglas could not get the Democratic strength of this (Graves) county, by from three hundred to four hundred votes, no matter upon what platform he might be placed, nor under what circumstances he might be nominated. Indeed, the prejudice against him, and the opposition to his pet hobby, seem to have increased, since the adjournment of the Charleston Convention.

A large Democratic meeting was held in New Castle, Delaware, a few days since, at which Messrs. Bayard and Whitely made speeches, giving an account of their stewardship at Charleston. After an exciting discussion of more than four hours, their course was indorsed. The County Convention met on the me day, and at the same place, and instructed Messrs. Bayard and Whitely to resume their seats at Baltimore, provided, in their opinion, the nationality of the Convention should be restored by the action of a sufficient portion of the regular delegations from the seceding Demo-eratic States. There was only one negative vote in the convention

The Cincinnati Enquirer, a few dayssince blished a report of the proceedings of a meeting held in Independence, Kenton county, Ky., one resolution adopted at which endorsed the Enquirer as a sound exponent of the Democratic principles. The fact that none of the leading men of the party in that country, whose names are household words throughout the State, were mentioned as having been present and participated in the meeting, convinced us that the whole thing was bogus. We find the folcinnati Commercial, all Democratic correspond

EDS. COM.:—Having lived for half a life time in Kenton county, Ky., I am satisfied that the report published in the Enquirer of this morning of a Democratic meeting held at Independence, in said county, does not reflect the will of the unconquerable Democracy of the same. In proof of which assertion, I want to know where were the wheel-horses of the party during the meeting? I don't observe any of the names of the following recognized leaders of the party in the proceedings.

The Democracy of the First Congression al District, of Indiana, met in convention, at Princeton, on the 30th ult., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress. There was an exciting triangular contest for the nomination, between Hon. W. E. Niblack, Hon. John Law, and Hon. Smith Miller, and all parts of the District were fully represented. On the 14th ballot Judge Law, having received a majority of the the party, by a unanimous vote.

They passed resolutions, no vote being east against them, recommending their delegates to Beltimore, to drop Judge Douglas, for whom they voted 57 times at Charleston, and to support Hon. J. A. Wright, of Indiana, for President, or to go for any "compromise man," who is devoted to the principles of the Democratic party. We give the resolutions, unanimously cess.

Resolved, That the delegates from this District to the Baltimore Convention be requested to east their votes and influence at the approaching Baltimore Convention, as the Democratic candidate for President, whenever they find it expedient and proper to change their vote from Mr. Douglas.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL CONVENTION.—The Baltimore American says that in view of the large concourse of strangers that will beattracted to Baltimore while the Democratic Convention is in session, and the fact that the largest hells would fail to give adequate accommodation, it has been proposed to creet a suitable temporary building for the express accommodation of the Convention, and capable of seasing all who may wish to be present press accommodation of the Convention, and capable of seating all who may wish to be present. To obtain the means for this purpose, a public subscription is proposed. Each subscription of $5 will entitle the contributor to a ticket giving him a claim for a reserved seat in the building at all times while the Convention is in session. From one thousand to one thousand five hundred subscriptions of this kind will be required for the successful accomplishment of the project.

the county will, it is thought, exceed $50,000.

Senators Crittenden and Powell voted for each one of the resolutions adopted in Democratic caucus and presented to the Senate by Senator Davis, of Mississippi. They repudiate Squatter Sovereignty and declare for Congres gard to the proceedings of the National Convention. After the speaking, resolutions approving the course of their representatives were passed well with proceedings of the National Convention. Another Elopement—A French Girl
Among the Indians.

In the early part of last winter, says the Palmer (Mass.) Journal, a party of wandering Indians pitched their tents near the village of Enfield, and for several weeks made and peddled baskets. Among them was a French girl, young and bewitching, as all pretty French girls are apt to be. She made the acquaintance of one Oils S. Ward, a comparatively young man, who could boast of a large pair of whiskers, an affectionate wife and two children. He kept the boarding house for the Minot Manufacturing Company, and was considered a very respectable man. When the Indians struck their tent and left town, the French girl went into the family of Ward and assisted his wife through the winter. On the 1st of April she left town, Ward taking her to the cars in Palmer.

A correspondence soon commenced between Ward and the girl, the frequency of which excited the suspicions of the postmaster. On the 3d instant Ward suddenly left town, and on that day a letter came for him from Cliftondale, in the town of Saugus. The letter remained in the offlice a day or two, when the postmaster received a line from the French girl recalling the letter she had sent to Ward, stating that she had made a great mistake, as she had learned that Ward had left town. The letter was taken to Ward's wife, who was overwhelmed with grief on reading it. It revealed the whole mystery of her husband's absence, and opened the floodgates of village gossip. The following is a copy of the letter, verbatim:

"My dear and beloved husband if i may be permitted to call you so, i received your longed for letter and would rather have it than a five dollar bill. how i have longed for the time to come when i can sit in your lap and hug and kiss you as much as i please and bury my face in your whiskers. I have been to Boston and find that the steamboat leaves Foster's wharf for Bangor on tuesdays and Fridays at 5 o'clock, i will neet you at Worcester depot on the 4th. be sure and come. your affectionate wife.

Something Strange.—Among the unfortunate aboutmen, wrecked in the late terrible hurriane on the Ohio were, two brothers of the name of Gibbons, from Pittsburg. When the boat hey were on went down, near Carrollton, one of new was rescued from drowning, but the other, ses fortunate, sunk and perished beneath the case. The survivor, after waiting at Carroll-on and searching in vain for several days for the ody, returned to his home in Pittsburg. Satir-day night he dreamed that his brother, whose name was Daniel, came to his bed-side and sold him that his dead body might be found buried by the side of that of a relative who perished on the same day and in like manner with himself. (The relative was on another host when lost) the same day and in like manner with himself. (The relative was on another boat when lost.)
The brother immediately started down the river, and on reaching this city and calling on the sexton of Springdale Cemetery, he found sure enough that his brother and relative were interred side by side in this city. This is a strange story, but it was related to us by Mr. Gibbons himself, who was in our office to-day, and we have no reason to question his veracity.

Painful History of the Betrayal of a Southern Heiross.

The Richmond (Va.) correspondent of the Petersburg Express relates the following melancholy instance of love betrayed and its criminal consequences:

About ten months ago a young, beautiful, and wealthy girl came to this city from South Carolina, a guilty refugee from the home of her birth, and the scenes alike of her innocence and her shame. The fear of exposure to the reproach and contunely of an uncompromising world had driven her hither, where she was unknown, and she tound a shelter for her misery beneath the roof of a low procuress in an obscure part of the city. In due time, the fruit of her unfortunate error appeared upon the stage of existence. Upon recovering from her illness, she left her "sinless child of sin" in the keeping of her available, but by no means, trusty she lett her "saless chind of sh" in the Reep-ing of her available, but by no means, trusty friend, and with a heavy heart, returned to her once happy and beautiful home. In the mean-time the false custodian of the child, though amply rewarded for her services, transferred her amply rewarded for her services, transferred her charge to the care of a negro woman, and a few days ago the child, though its history was un-known, attracted some notice from outside sources by its sickly, famishing look, striking all who saw it with the suspicion that it was dying of hunger and exposure. The subject reached the knowledge of the police, and the negro woman as we have mentioned, was arrraigned before the Mayor, when the above developments were made, but as no guilt could be legally attached to the negro, she was discharged.

How MEN OF GENIUS REGARD LITERATURE .-The man of genius feels that literature has be-some too much a craft by itself. No man should ive by or for his pen. Writing is worthless ex-cept as the record of life; and no great man was wer satisfied thus to express all his being. His book should be only an indication of himself. y man finds himself condemned to be nothing
e. Does he write a good book? It is not reived as evidence of his ability to live and acit rather the reverse. Men do not offerhim the re of embassies, as an earlier age did to Perch; they would be surprised if he left his dey to go forth to battlelike Cervantes. We have e awordsmus, statesman, and penman, but it is study to go for fit to bather Receivances. We have the swordsman, statesman, and penman, but it is not considered that the same mind which can rule the destiny of a poem, may as well that of an army or empire. Yet surely it should be so. The seisutific man may need seclusion from the common affairs of life, for he has his materials before him; but the man of letters must seek them in life, and he who can not act will but im-perfectly any acquire action.

GAMBLING IN MEMPHIS .- The Grand Jury of Memphis recently sent in a paper to the Board Master in Chancery, O. C. C. of Aldermen of that city, calling attention to the great number of faro-banks in open operation in that at the present time there are as many as three hundred, perhaps four hundred, traveling thieves in the city of Memphis. This class of the community are outlawed and deprayed per-sons, who follow in the wake of these gambling establishments who live by their predatory and unhallowed practices upon the strangers visiting the city. Many of these last class act as runners and inviegiers for these faro-banks, and, when other devices fall, they resort to that most de-perate of all other highway robberies, the power of the recent of the garotte.

Funeral of the Late Hon. Wm. C. Preston.

—On Thursday morning last, the funeral rites of the much lamented Hon. Wm. C. Preston, of South Carolina, were celebrated at Columbia, the Capital of the State. An immense concourse of people, including friends and connections of the deceased, assembled to do honor to the dead. Among them were the venerable Judge King, of Charleston, and Gen Waddy Thompson, of Greenville, and others. The body was conveyed to Trinity Church, where the solemn funeral services were conducted, in a most appropriate manner. In Charleston city on the same day a meeting of the bar was convened in the Equity Court room, for the purpose of paying a tribute to the memory of the deceased. Attorney General Hayne moved the organization of the meeting, by calling the Hon. H. A. DeSaussure to the Chair, when appropriate addresses were made by Messrs, Hayne and James L. Petigru.

DEATH OF BYRON'S WIDOW.—Died, May 16, at No. 118t. George's Terrace, Regent Park, London, Anne Isabella, Baroness Noel Byron. This lady, who was born in 1794, was the only daughter and heir of Sir Ralph Milbank Noel, Bart., by the sister and co-heir of the second Viscount and ninth baron Wentworth. On the death of the other co-heir, Lord Scarsdale, in 1856, she succeeded to the barony of Wentworth by writ, the viscounty becoming extinct. She was married to the great poet in 1815, but the union, as is well known, was a most unhappy one for both the husband and wife. Their only child, Ada, was married to Earl Lovelace, and died in 1852.

The Borer.—The locust trees in Indianapolis are being killed off by the "borer." Two years ago, most of the locusts in Terre Hante were killed by this insect, and, in fact, the locusts all through the Wabash Valley suffered severely from their ravages. Some six years ago, the locusts were destroyed in New York by swarms of the same beetles.

SUICIDE OF A BOY.—Peter Hannock, aged 12 years, hung himself last Tuesday, in the stable of Mr. Cassons, in Kent county, Del., because Mr. Cassons refused to permit him to accompany him to Dover that day.

XXXVIth CONGRESS-FIRST SESSION Saturday's Proceedings.

Washington, June 2.—Senate.—The bill to settle private land claims of California was taken up and discussed, but without arriving at a vote upon it the subject was postponed.

The military appropriation bill was then taken After further debate the resolution was adopted by 16 to 4.

Amendments from the military committee to erect an arsenal on the Red river of the North, and to creet barracks at Fort Cobb in the Indian Territory; appropriating for the support of one regiment of mounted volunteers in Texas, $788, regiment of mounted volunteers in Texas, $788, 5000; and for repairs and continuation of the work on various fortifications $1,155,000. Also a number of others of less moment were offered and adopted. Senate adjourned the consideration of Mr. Winslow's resolution, offered yesterday, directing the Speaker to issue his subpens for certain witnesses to appear before the Covode Committee.

Committee.

Mr. Train said, that with his sense of duty, he Mr. Train said, that with his sense of duty, he could never allow the minority to dictate the direction of business. He, however, would listen to any suggestion from his colleague on the committee, Mr. Winslow, as he had always done with deference; but, he repeated, he could not allow him or the minority to dictate to the majority how it shall pursue the investigation. Mr. Clark, of Mo. inquired—Do I understand the gentleman to to say that the Republicans are in a majority in this House?

Mr. Train—I don't include the gentlemen, and gentlemen of the Southern Opposition? It is an imputation on the party to which I have the honor to belong.

Mr. Train—Ferhaps I ought to qualify my lan-Mr. Train—Perhaps I ought to quality my ianguage, that the kepublican party is responsible for the legislation of this House. We shall be held responsible to some extent for the conduct of this committee. The resolution of Mr. Winslow is out of order.

of this committee. The resolution of Mr. Winslow is out of order.

Mr. V. inslow thought his friend from Massachusetts, whose gentlemanly bearing he appreciated, had fallen into error with regard to the testimony he sought to bring out relative to the Congressional election in Westmoreland county, Pa., instead of assisting in the investigation. The Chairman, Mr. Covode, said he had some personal knowledge of that district, and therefore declined to subpeen at he witness. It was a great outrage and blot on the Republican party which all the waters of the ocean could not wash out—the refusal was unjust and iniquitous. He had been informed that greater frauds had been committed by the Republicans in Pennsylvania than those charged upon the Democrats.

Mr. Covode said he never yet refused to summon witnesses, but objected to summoning thirty or forty who knew nothing, which would be an expense of $4,000 or $5,000. Gentlemen from New York have brought witnesses before the committee without their being summoned. The narjority of the committee didn't object.

Mr. Winslow was glad that the gentleman had reminded him of this.

Mr. Hughes gave it to him.

Mr. Winslow shid he had asked that only eight out of thirty witnesses had been summoned. He stated, on his individual responsibility, that it had been the practice of Mr. Covode to summon witnesses without consulting the committee.

Mr. Covode replied that it was only this morning that an order had been passed by the committee relative to the summoning of witnesses.

Mr. Campbell said the charges of the fraudulent election of Mr. Scranton came assassin-like, from an anonymous source, which Mr. Winslow tensed to give to the public.

Mr. Covode said he told Mr. Winslow that he was willing to send for several witnesses, and Mr. Winslow informed him that those witnesses had nothing to do with the government.

Mr. Winslow asked for no favor. He shod on his right to have witnesses summoned.

Mr. Winslow asked for no favor. He stood on his right to have witnesses summoned.
Mr. Robinson, of Illinois, remarked that from the time of the organization of the committee to the present, Mr. Winslow insisted that no witnesses ought to be examined unless the subject of subpanaing them was brought before the committee.

of subparaing them was brought before the committee.

Mr. Covode. My course has not only been protested against by a majority of the committee but by the President. [Laughter.]

Mr. Eobinson. I have only stated a fact, sir. Mr. Winslow trusted that the Speaker would not hereafter issue his subpens for witnesses until the list has first been certified by the committee. Mr. Winslow alluded to the fact that testimony against the Administration had been improperly published. He (Winslow) didn't think it proper to have any agency in publishing reluting testimony, coming, as he did, from North Carolina, where the duty of guests is known, and the propricties of life are regarded. Mr. Covode replied that he had particular reasons sometimes for not communicating the names of witnesses. He intended to examine one, and if they should hear of it they would get out of the way.

Mr. Siewart, of Maryland, made a speech in reply to his colleague, Mr. Davis, who, several months ago, attacked the House of Delegates of that State, for censuring him for voting for a Republican Speaker, Mr. Pennington.

Mr. Davis said that the House of Delegates' conserved.

Mr. Stewart asked whether his colleague thought the people of Maryland would sustain him?

Mr. Davis said he had no mode of ascertaining this till the fall election, and, perhaps, not then, for he did not suppose his personal conduct blame can attach to Capt. Dittman, or any of the officers of the boat for the unfortunate disaster.

Thanks to Mr. Mayo, clerk of the Gen. Pike, from Memphis, for a memorandum. She arrived Saturday evening with a large delegation of the clergy from Henderson, where they attended the dedication of a Presbyterian church.

The departure of the Gen. Pike to Memphis has been deferred to Tuesday evening. She is at Portland.

The Gen. Pike discharged 300 bales of cotton at New Albany for the East.

Thanks to the tattentions of the officers of the B. J. Adams for the latest New Orleans dates, and Fillimore does not and will not support the Caicago nominee.

A number of private bills were passed. The House voted to go into Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union. Nearly all the members then left, a few only remaining for general debate.

Mr. Morrell took the floor, whereapon Mr. Craig, of N. C., raised the point of order that there was no quorum present. He was tired of making the House a debating society and of the printing of speeches never delivered. The very men who had voted to go into committee in order that gas might be let off had left. He resisted all appeals to withdraw his objection, and the committee rose and House adjourned.

From Washington.

Washington. June 1.—Gen. Foster, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania, Jas. Magee, director of the Pennsylvania Rairoad, and other citizens of that State are here on business connected with the passage of the tariff bill by the Senate. The number will be increased next week by the arrival of Messrs. Cadwallader, Robbins, Phillips, Roberts, and Wm. C. Patterson, and other prominent Democrats of Pennsylvania, on the same business.

The Senate Committee on Printing will report in favor of the House bill for the establishment of a government printing office, and the prospect is that it will pass the Senate. This means of exceuting the public printing has been repeatedly before Congress since 1819. Whatever may be its merits, its success in a great measure is owing to the industry and perseverance of Mr. Greeley. Hon. Edward Bates, of Missouri, is about to publish a letter addressed to O. H. Arrival of the City of Baltimore

St. Johns, N. F., June 2.—Steamer City of Baltimore from Liverpool on the 23d ult., via Queenstown the 24th, passed Cape Race at noon yesterday, but owing to an interruption of the line her news could not be telegraphed till today. She has 660 steerage passengers and 60 cabin passengers for New York.

The following is a summary of her news prepared by the Liverpool agent of the Associated Press for transmission via Cape Race. The Queenstown dispatch, which should accompany it, has not reached us.

GREAT BRITAIN.—The House of Lords rejected the Commons bill repealing the paper duty, and the act excited much attention. The vote was 193 against 104, showing a majority against the government of 89. The vote was preceded by an extended debate, in which Lord Lyndhurst and other eminent peers asserted the constitutional rights of the House of Lords to reject a fair, being slightly in excess of the demand. government of 89. The vote was preceded by an extended debate, in which Lord Lyndhurst and other eminent peers asserted the constitutional rights of the House of Lords to reject a bill, although it was a money bill.

Lord Palmerston stated in the Commons, that he would vote for a committee to examine the precedents for the course pursued by the Lords, but disclaimed a desire to place the two houses of Parliament in hostility. It was reported that the Cabinet would accept the decision of the House of Lords, and return the tax.

The official Neapolitan statements current at the departure of the Arabia, to the effect that Garibaldi's forces had been completely routed, are flatly contradicted. The Neapolitan troops were completely defeated at that city.

Garibaldi's troops had invested Moreilla which commands Palermo.

The latest rumors say that Garibaldi had obtained a decided victory at Moreilla.

The Neapolitan government has very little to say, but the last bulletin has it that two columns were pursuing the dispersed troops of Garibaldi. The insurgents were gaining strength daily.

It was vaguely reported that France and Russia signed a treaty on the 19th on the Eastern question.
